Market Square Arena

Market Square Arena opened in 1974 and recently underwent renovations that included new lighting, a new sound system, new seats, an updated video system and new air conditioning.

The building was designed by Kennedy, Brown and Associates and constructed by Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc. Groundbreaking ceremonies were conducted Oct. 20, 1971, and the building was officially opened Sept. 15, 1974. The Pacers lost to San Antonio, 129-121, in double overtime in their first appearance in the building, Oct. 18, 1974.

Five nights later, the Pacers had their first victory in MSA, a 122-107 triumph over the Spirits of St. Louis.

Market Square Arena highlights include the 1980 NCAA basketball semifinals and finals; the 1978 and 1979 NCAA basketball Mid-East regionals; NBA's All-Star Saturday in 1985; the annual Indiana state high school basketball and wrestling championships; Elvis Presley's last concert (June 26, 1977); the 1982 National Sports Festival; 1987 Pan American Games basketball competition and the 1991 World Gymnastics opening ceremonies.

Aside from its draw for athletic competition that has included ice hockey, tennis and indoor soccer, MSA has hosted concerts, circuses, rodeos, ice shows, seminars and banquets. The arena has a seating capacity of 18,125 for concerts and boxing; approximately 16,530 for basketball and 16,000 for hockey. All seats in the circular arena are free from posts and other obstructions of view.

Dining is provided at the Market Square Gardens Restaurant, located on the seventh level on the west side of the building.

Melvin Simon

Owner

A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Melvin Simon is Co-Chairman of the Indianapolis-based real estate development and management company, Simon DeBartolo Group, which was formed in August 1996 as a merger between Simon Property Group and DeBartolo Realty Corporation. Simon DeBartolo Group is the largest publicly-traded real estate company in North America.

In addition, he serves as Chairman of the Board of Melvin Simon & Associates, Inc., which, until the formation of Simon Property Group in 1993, was the nation's second largest developer and manager of shopping centers.

Mr. Simon attended the Bronx High School of Science and the City College of New York where he earned a B.S. degree in accounting and an M.B.A. with emphasis on real estate. He came to Indiana while serving in the U.S. Army when a transfer brought him to Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis.

Following his discharge from the Army and prior to creating the company, Melvin Simon & Associates, in 1960 in Indianapolis with brothers Herbert and Fred, Mr. Simon worked as a leasing representative with the Albert Frankel Company, an Indianapolis developer of strip shopping centers.

Mr. Simon is a Trustee of both the Urban Land Institute (ULI) and the International Council of Shopping Centers (ICSC). He holds board memberships with numerous community and civic organizations, and has received many awards and honors for his involvement.

Together, Mr. Simon and his wife Bren have five children.

Herb Simon

Owner

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., Herbert Simon is Co-Chairman of Simon DeBartolo Group, the largest publicly-traded real estate company in North America, with 112 regional malls, 66 community shopping centers and six specialty centers. Simon DeBartolo was formed in August 1996 through a merger between Simon Property Group and DeBartolo Realty Corporation. The company owns and manages several malls in the greater-Indianapolis area including Circle Centre, the highly successful downtown mall which celebrated its first anniversary in September 1996.

Mr. Simon also serves as President of Melvin Simon & Associates, Inc. which, prior to the formation of Simon Property Group, was the second-largest developer and manager of shopping centers in the nation.

Prior to creating the Simon company with his brothers Melvin and Fred in Indianapolis in 1960, Mr. Simon attended the City College of New York where he earned a B.S. degree in business.

A firm supporter of professional, environmental and community groups, Mr. Simon serves on the boards of directors of numerous community and civic organizations.

Mr. Simon, together with his wife, Diane Meyer Simon, has five children.

Donnie Walsh

President

The success the Pacers had the last three seasons, highlighted in 1994-95 by the team's first 50-win NBA season, its first-ever title (the Central Division Championship) and followed up by last season's 52-30 record, was something Donnie Walsh had been building toward for years.

Back in April of 1986, Walsh became the team's general manager. His goals were simple: establish a solid franchise and build a world championship team. Accomplishing those goals would be difficult, but Walsh brought a work ethic (he rarely takes a day off) and a basketball background that would help him greatly in trying to achieve them.

When Walsh took over, the Pacers were coming off a 26-56 season and the team had reached the playoffs only once in 10 NBA seasons. Rebuilding the Pacers over the next few years would be a big challenge, particularly since two key players, Clark Kellogg and Steve Stipanovich, would have their careers shortened by knee injuries.

But in spite of the adversity, the Pacers have averaged 42 victories a season (compared with an average of 25 victories the five previous seasons) and made the playoffs seven straight years in Walsh's 10 years in the Pacers' front office. Additionally, attendance in Market Square Arena has been the highest in franchise history the last nine seasons, capped by 1995-96 in which the Pacers had a record average of 16,438 that included 29 sellouts and a season-ending run of 13 straight sellouts.

Walsh, who in 1988 was named president of the Pacers Basketball Corporation (which runs the Pacers and also directs the management of Market Square Arena), received some recognition in 1993-94 as being one of the NBA's top executives after the Pacers finished with a 47-35 record and reached the Eastern Conference Finals. That reputation was enhanced in 1994-95 with the Pacers' strong regular season showing and another appearance in the Eastern Conference Finals, then firmly established with the team's 52-30 record last season and the re-signing of key free agents Dale Davis and Antonio Davis in the offseason. That assured a large part of the Pacers' nucleus, which has led to their recent success, would stay intact.

Prior to that, some of the key moves Walsh has made to bring about the Pacers' success include the hiring of his old college teammate, Larry Brown, as head coach; a trade before the 1993-94 season that brought Derrick McKey to the Pacers; the signing of free agent Byron Scott and a trade in 1994 that made Mark Jackson a Pacer.

Those ingredients, along with players such as Miller -- a member of Dream Team II and III as well as a three-time Eastern Conference All-Star -- Rik Smits, Dale and Antonio Davis (all players drafted by Walsh), have made the Pacers one of the NBA's top success stories.

"Looking back on it, I'm glad we've been able to get it to the point where it is," Walsh said. "I'm happy for the city of Indianapolis and the state of Indiana because I think with the basketball tradition they've had here, it's good to put professional basketball in the mix with college and high school basketball.

"I think we've created some excitement in the city and state to have their pro team be a contending team. So there's a great satisfaction in doing that. Now that we're at this level, I think the most important thing is to try to stay at this level and try to win a championship. That's what we're going to try to do."

Walsh's life has been spent in and around basketball.

An outstanding high school player in New York City, Walsh played at North Carolina under Frank McGuire and Dean Smith. After graduating with a bachelor of arts degree in political science, Walsh attended the North Carolina Law School and helped coach the Tar Heels' freshman team for two seasons.

After graduating from law school and turning down offers from then former Vice President Richard Nixon's law firm in New York City and the U.S. Justice Department's Honors programs, he took a graduate coaching position under Smith at North Carolina and then became an associate head coach under McGuire at South Carolina. In 1977, Walsh was about to enter private law practice in South Carolina, but Brown, the head coach of the Denver Nuggets, asked Walsh to join him as an assistant. Walsh stayed with the Nuggets as an assistant coach and a head coach before entering private business in 1982.

But in 1984, Walsh was back in basketball, this time with the Pacers, as an assistant to George Irvine. He remained on the bench until becoming general manager two years later. He has since been a member of the U.S. Olympic Games Committee for men's basketball for Dream Teams I and II.

Walsh's knowledge, professionalism, accessibility and courtesy are highly-recognized throughout the NBA by players, coaches, front office personnel and the media. He is also a respected member of the Indianapolis community, serving on the boards of many charities.

He and his wife, Judy, both natives of New York, have five children and live in Indianapolis.

Dale Ratermann

Vice President/Administration

Dale Ratermann is responsible for the administration of business operations for the Indiana Pacers. After six-and-a-half years as the media relations director, he was promoted to vice president of administration in 1992.

On five occasions, Ratermann was awarded the Howie McHugh/Marc Splaver Award, given to the outstanding public relations director in the NBA's Eastern Conference.

Before joining the Pacers staff, Ratermann served as the assistant sports information director at the University of Illinois for seven years. After graduating from Illinois in 1978, he attended graduate school at Arizona State University.

A native of Marion, Ill., Ratermann is single.

Bob Metelko

Chief Financial Officer

Bob Metelko joined the Pacers in November 1984, as chief financial officer. Responsible for the finances of the Pacers and Market Square Arena, he oversees budgeting, cash management, financial reporting, insurance and employee benefits.

Metelko graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1967 with a degree in business administration and was drafted by the U.S. Army for a tour in the Finance Corps.

He moved to Houston in 1969 to work as staff auditor for Price Waterhouse, but left in 1972 to join a small CPA firm in Greenwood, Ind. Metelko became a certified public accountant in 1973 and joined Merchants Bank as assistant controller a year later. He eventually became a vice president and controller before leaving to join the Pacers' front office.

Originally from Lincoln, Ill., Metelko is married to Belinda and has three children.

Billy Knight

Vice President/Basketball Operations

Now entering his second year as Vice President/Basketball Operations, Billy Knight is a former outstanding Pacers' player who is now responsible for helping the Pacers become and remain an outstanding team. As Vice President/Basketball Operations, Knight oversees the scouting and day-to-day basketball operations of the Pacers.

Prior to the 1993-94 season, Knight was the Pacers' all-time leading scorer with 10,780 points in two ABA and six NBA seasons with Indiana. He was named an NBA All-Star in the Pacers' first season in the league (1976-77). In that season, he finished as the NBA's second-leading scorer (behind Pete Maravich) with an average 26.6 points per game.

He averaged 16.9 ppg in an 11-season career that included stints with Boston, Buffalo, Kansas City and San Antonio, as well as the Pacers. Knight was named an All-Star three times, twice in the NBA and once in the ABA. He has also served as an assistant coach and director of player personnel.

A native of Pittsburgh and an All-American at the University of Pittsburgh, Knight competes as a state-ranked tennis player. He is married to Linda and has one daughter, Olivia.

Rick Fuson

Vice President/Market Square Arena

Since joining the Pacers Basketball Corporation, Rick Fuson has been instrumental in shaping events within the arena and many sports events elsewhere in Indianapolis. For example, he was on the executive committee for the 1991 World Gymnastics Championships and served as ceremonies chairman. He was co-chairman of special events for the 1991 NCAA Final Four and coordinator of crowd management for the opening ceremonies of the Pan American Games in 1987. He co-chaired the grand opening of the Indianapolis Zoo in 1988.

Fuson is a member of the executive committee of the Indiana Sports Corporation and chairman of its for profit arm, Sports Marketing, Inc. He is a board member of Indianapolis Downtown, Inc., Marketing, the Indianapolis Convention & Visitors Association and the Indianapolis Parks Foundation.

A graduate of Indiana University, he joined the staff of Market Square Arena in 1984 as director of special events and was promoted a year later to vice president. He is a professional member of the International Association of Auditorium Managers. He has also been active with the Indianapolis Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the 1985 NBA All-Star weekend, the White River Park State Games and Indianapolis Downtown Space 2010.

He is married to 1988 Olympic Gymnast Kelly Garrison and has three children.

David Kahn

Vice President and Assistant General Manager

David Kahn, in his first full season with the Pacers and in assisting team President Donnie Walsh, works on both basketball and business issues for the Pacers. His specific duties include administration of the team's salary cap, staying abreast of NBA developments as they relate to the team and representing the Pacers in their quest for a new arena.

Kahn, 35, came to the Pacers in November 1995, from Proskauer Rose Goetz & Mendelsohn, which is primary outside counsel to the NBA, the National Hockey League and the New York Yankees. In addition to his law practice, Kahn also served from 1991-95 as the basketball consultant for "NBA Showtime" at NBC Sports in New York.

Before moving to New York to attend NYU School of Law in 1990, Kahn was a sportswriter and columnist for six years at the Portland Oregonian and, during college, the Los Angeles Times. Kahn earned a degree in English at UCLA in 1983.

Pacers' Announcers

Mark Boyle

Radio Play-By-Play

Mark Boyle is in his ninth season as the Pacers' play-by-play broadcaster on an extensive statewide network.

Boyle, who joined the Pacers in 1988, brings a background rich with experience to the broadcasts. He worked at the country's first all-sports radio station, WFAN, in New York. Prior to that, he spent time at KMOX Radio in St. Louis, working in one of the most highly-regarded sports departments in broadcasting, and at KSTP Radio in Minneapolis, as well as several other small and medium market radio stations. In addition to his NBA experience, which includes work on the nationally broadcast NBA Game of the Week, Boyle has covered the NHL, the NFL, major league baseball, and major college football and basketball.

Originally from Minneapolis, Boyle has been recognized as the top sports talk show host in Indianapolis by Indianapolis Monthly magazine. He is also a regular contributor to WIBC's nightly sports talk show. Boyle was honored last spring as Indiana's Sportscaster of the Year.

Bob Leonard

Radio Analyst

Bob "Slick" Leonard is in his 12th year with the Pacers as a broadcaster and lends unique perspective to each game along with his vast knowledge of basketball.

As a Pacers' head coach for 12 years, Leonard won 529 games and three ABA championships. Before coming to the Pacers, "Slick" had an outstanding playing career on the collegiate and pro levels. A two-time All-American at Indiana University, he was captain of the Hoosiers' 1953 NCAA championship team. He played seven years in the NBA with the Minneapolis/Los Angeles Lakers.

Leonard is a member of the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame and was the first person inducted into the I.U. Sports Hall of Fame.

A native of Terre Haute, Ind., he lives in Carmel with his wife, Nancy and is a partner in Bobby Leonard Enterprises.

Jerry Baker

TV Play-By-Play

Jerry Baker is in his seventh season as the Pacers' TV play-by-play announcer.

Baker began his association with the team in 1967 as its first-ever radio broadcaster, a position he held for five seasons before moving to TV for five additional seasons. He then began a long association with Indianapolis radio station WIBC as sports director and afternoon air personality.

Baker is also a member of the world-wide Indianapolis Motor Speedway 500-Mile Race and Brickyard 400 Radio Networks. For 18 years, he was the voice of the IHSAA TV Network, handling play-by-play duties for numerous state high school championship events, including the prestigious boys and girls state basketball championships.

The former Associated Press Indiana Sportscaster of the Year is a native of Sullivan, Ind., and graduated from Indiana State University. There he was awarded the State Radio Guild Award as the outstanding Radio-Television major as a senior.

Baker and his wife, Ramona, reside in Indianapolis.

Clark Kellogg

TV Analyst

While Clark Kellogg receives national notoriety for his work on college basketball telecasts, Pacer fans have long been aware of his basketball expertise as he now is in his ninth season as a television analyst.

Kellogg, who does a full schedule of college games for ESPN and works as a studio analyst for CBS during the NCAA tournament, is a former first-round draft pick of the Pacers and played five seasons with the team. Chronic knee problems forced him to retire after career averages of 18.9 points and 9.6 rebounds per game.

Kellogg, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, attended Ohio State University where he was the Big Ten's MVP in 1982. He is involved in many charities and civic organizations, most notably the Special Olympics and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He and his wife, Rosy, have three children and live in Westerville, Ohio.

George McGinnis

TV Analyst

George McGinnis is in his second season as the analyst for the Pacers' cable television broadcasts.

A former Pacer (he played seven seasons), McGinnis is just one of three players to have his number retired by the Pacers. McGinnis, who was a co-ABA MVP in 1975 with Julius Erving, holds numerous Pacer ABA records.

McGinnis, who is president of GM Supply Co., Inc. (an industrial supplier) has done analysis on Butler University basketball and Indiana high school basketball.

George and his wife, Lynda, live in Indianapolis and they have a son, Tony.

Larry Brown

Head Coach

In three seasons as coach of the Pacers, there is no question Larry Brown has had an influence on the team's rise to among the NBA's best.

After being named coach of the Pacers in 1993, he helped them to a 47-35 record and a berth in the Eastern Conference Finals, where the Pacers lost in the final seconds of the seventh game to the New York Knicks. Then in 1994-95, the Pacers posted a 52-30 record and again reached the Eastern Conference Finals before falling in the seventh game to Orlando.

Last season, the Pacers posted another 52-30 record, giving them their first back-to-back 50-win seasons since 1969-70 and 1970-71 in the old American Basketball Association. For Brown, it was his eighth 50-plus win year in 17 seasons as a professional coach.

While the Pacers' march in the 1994 NBA playoffs was something of a surprise, there was no sneaking up on the league the last two seasons. The 1994-95 record was the team's best in its 19-year NBA history, the 50-win season was the first in the team's NBA history and the Central Division Championship was the team's first title of any kind in its NBA history. Finally, the .634 winning percentage was the third-highest in the franchise's 28-year history.

Last season, the Pacers matched that percentage but also set an NBA franchise record for road victories with 20.

Brown, who won his 500th NBA game last season and became the Pacers' all-time winningest coach last season, has compiled a .613 winning percentage (151-95) in his three seasons as coach of the Pacers. That just falls in line with a successful coaching career that has seen Brown's teams post a .500 or better record 23 times in 24 seasons and this season should see Brown reach his 1,000th career (college, ABA, NBA) coaching victory. He currently has 991 victories against 605 losses for an outstanding .620 winning percentage.

It seemed when Brown was hired as coach of the Pacers, the match would be a good one. He was reunited with his old teammate from the University of North Carolina, Pacers' President Donnie Walsh; he was coaching one of the original franchises from the old American Basketball Association, in which Brown both played and coached; he was coaching in a state that appreciates and loves basketball at all levels; and his past success as a coach seemed to be the impetus for a team hoping to step up to the next level.

In three seasons, the match has proved to be a good one for both the Pacers and Brown, who is now in the top quarter of NBA coaches in tenure with the same team. The city of Indianapolis and state of Indiana have responded warmly to Brown's Pacer teams.

"I didn't know what to expect when I came here as an NBA coach," Brown said. "I was proud to see the response because I know people respect the game here and appreciate it if you play the right way. The fact they started coming out and showing affection for our team made me feel we were obviously playing the right way, we were playing hard, we were showing enthusiasm. I think if you look back on the three years I've been here, that's the most satisfying thing that with all the basketball excellence around us in the state, we're a big part of this."

Brown's career as a player and coach has also reflected basketball excellence.

As a player, he played on the 1964 gold medal-winning Olympic basketball team for the United States and he was a three-time ABA All-Star. As a coach, he reached the NCAA Final Four three times, winning a national championship with Kansas in 1988. He was also a three-time ABA Coach of the Year.

Brown attributes his coaching skills to having learned from the best. He cites Frank McGuire and Dean Smith (his coaches at North Carolina), along with Henry Iba and John McClendon (his coaches from the Olympic Team), as being at the forefront. His record is a credit to their influence.

So, it seemed only natural Brown would someday coach in the hotbed of basketball, Indiana. "Being in a state that loves basketball, appreciates basketball and really follows basketball, that's important to me," said Brown, who someday would like to be a high school coach.

His Pacer teams have brought a stamp that has made fans love and appreciate them. The Pacers have become a strong defensive team, setting a team record in 1994-95 for fewest average points allowed (95.5). Last season, the mark was a stingy 96.2, sixth best in the NBA. The Pacers have also become noted for their hustle and unselfishness, both Brown trademarks.

"We try to play the right way, we try to play unselfishly and I think we compete every night," Brown said.

Brown and his wife, Shelly, have a son, L.J. Brown, an avid golfer and runner, also has three daughters, Kristen, Alli and Melissa.

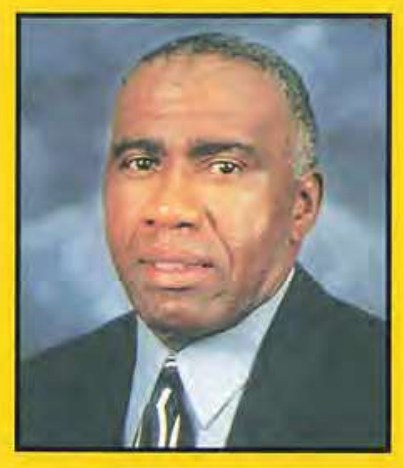
Gar Heard



Assistant Coach

Gar Heard begins his fourth year as an assistant with the Pacers and his vast NBA experience has been a valuable asset to the Pacers' bench.

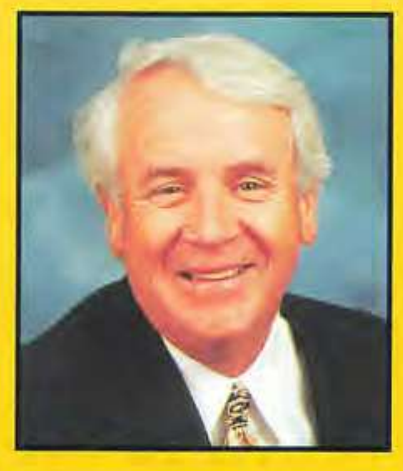
In his career, Heard has played for, or worked with, some of the winningest coaches in the league's history, including Jack Ramsay, Dick Motta, Lenny Wilkens, John MacLeod and, of course, Larry Brown. That list makes up half of the top 10 career wins list in professional basketball.

Prior to joining the Pacers, Heard had coached the Dallas Mavericks, replacing Richie Adubato on January 13, 1993. Heard inherited a Mavericks team that had posted just two wins in its first 29 games of the season, but guided Dallas to a 9-44 record the rest of the way.

Heard entered the NBA as the Seattle SuperSonics' third-round draft choice out of Oklahoma in 1970. He played on seven playoff teams in his 11 seasons.

Heard has three children: daughters Kim Taylor and Yaasmeen, and a son, Gyasi.

Bill Blair



Assistant Coach

Bill Blair returns to the Pacers' coaching staff after serving as head coach of the Minnesota Timberwolves.

Blair was a member of Larry Brown's 1993-94 coaching staff and is regarded as a defensive specialist, as well as one of the top strategists in the game. His NBA background is vast, having spent seven seasons with Washington before joining the Pacers. From 1983-85, he was an assistant coach with Chicago and was an assistant to Larry Brown in New Jersey in 1981-82.

A native of Whitesburg, Kent., Blair attended Virginia Military Institute and was named coach of his alma mater in 1972. In 1975, he led VMI to a 22-10 record, its first winning record in 32 years. Blair later coached at the University of Colorado (1978-80) and in 1980, he was named coach for the Olympic Trials.

Blair and his wife, Kathie, have two daughters, Christine (27) and Candace (25).

Billy King

Assistant Coach

Billy King, an outstanding defensive player on Duke's highly-ranked teams in the late 1980s, will be in his fourth year as a Pacers' assistant coach.

Before coming to the Pacers, King was an assistant at Illinois State and spent one year as a color analyst for ESPN's basketball coverage of the Ohio Valley Conference.

While King was at Duke, the Blue Devils were 112-27, an average of 28 wins per season.

In that time, Duke went to the Final Four twice, won the Atlantic Coast Conference regular-season championship and two ACC tournament titles. At the conclusion of his senior season, King was honored with the Henry Iba Corinthian National Defensive Player of the Year Award.

King currently serves on USA Basketball's senior men's committee which helps select the U.S. Men's Olympic basketball team. He is single.

David Craig

Trainer

David Craig is in his 27th year as the head trainer for the Indiana Pacers. In that time, he has distinguished himself as one of the best athletic trainers in sports because of his professionalism, knowledge, work ethic, organizational skills and personality.

With all of those things combined, the 48-year-old Craig has given the Pacers a valued employee whom many consider irreplaceable.

Craig's athletic training education began as a junior at West Lafayette High School when he began working under Purdue University's William "Pinky" Newell, widely regarded as the father of modern day athletic training. That schooling continued for Craig as an undergraduate at Purdue and during summers he worked camps for the NFL's Detroit Lions and Minnesota Vikings.

Craig joined the Pacers prior to the 1970-71 season and was part of two American Basketball Association championship teams which he cites as "very important" moments in his career. Craig adds he "looks forward to being part of an NBA championship" team.

During his years with the Pacers, Craig has been justly honored. He was the first president of the Indiana Athletic Trainers Association and in 1993 won the organization's "Professional Clinician/Athletic Trainer of the Year" Award. In 1995, he was inducted into the IATA Hall of Fame. He has also been chairman of the National Basketball Trainers Association Executive Committee and served as the trainer for the Eastern Conference in the 1985 NBA All-Star game and the 1996 All-Star game.

Recently, David received a Distinguished Alumnus Award from Purdue University.

Locally, from 1978 to 1993 Craig served as president of Indianapolis Physical Therapy and Sports Medicine, Inc., a business he co-founded and oversaw an expansion of six Indianapolis area clinics.

David has two children, Jennifer and Brian.

Mel Daniels

Director of Player Personnel

Mel Daniels has 14 seasons experience as part of the Pacers' basketball staff and, again, has provided his keen, no-nonsense, approach to basketball talent.

The former two-time ABA MVP (1969, '71) and the ABA's first Rookie of the Year (1969) averaged 19.5 points and 15.9 rebounds a contest from 1968 to 1974. He was also the ABA All-Star game MVP in 1971. His No. 34 has been retired by the Pacers and he was recently honored on the Pacers Wall of Fame.

A native of Detroit, Daniels was an assistant coach at Indiana State from 1978-82 and was part of ISU's 33-1 NCAA championship runner-up team in 1978-79. Former Sycamore star Larry Bird credits Daniels with preparing him for the NBA.

Daniels, who has been an assistant coach and scout for the Pacers, is an avid horseman. He and his wife, CeCe, live in Indianapolis.

Height: 6-7
Weight: 215
Position: Guard
Born: May 1, 1959 in Chicago, Illinois
High School: Westinghouse, Chicago, Illinois
College: Illinois '81
Drafted: By Kansas City in second round, 1981 (29th pick)
Acquired: Signed as a free agent, October 2, 1995

1995-96:

His free throw with five tenths of a second left against the Bulls, 4/20, handed the Pacers their second victory against Chicago of the season...that win was the Pacers' 20th of the season on the road, a club record...he led the Pacers in scoring three times, including a season-high 26 points at San Antonio, 1/5...he added a season-high eight rebounds against the Spurs...he came off the bench to register 24 points against the Bulls, 12/29...he and Ricky Pierce led the Pacers with 18 points apiece at Orlando, 11/16...in his only start of the season, he lit up the Miami Heat for 23 points, as the Pacers won in Miami, 11/15, with just eight available players due to league imposed suspension...he scored the 18,000th point of his career at Toronto, 1/16, making him the 38th player in NBA history to reach that plateau...at New Jersey, 2/14, he logged the 30,000th minute of his career...among the best free throw shooters in the history of the NBA (.840), he shot a team-best 88.6 percent FTS...his free throw (1-1) at Dallas, 1/9, was the 3,000th FTM of his career...after hitting 1-2 FTS against the Cavs, 11/7, he drilled in 31 straight free throws, the longest streak by a Pacer of the season...through 1/19, he had missed just two free throws (57-59), but after a DNP-CD vs. Washington, 1/21, he hit four of his next nine from the line...he scored in double-figures in five straight games from 12/28 to 1/5 and in that stretch averaged 19.0 ppg on 35-72 FGS (.486), 14-28 3-pt FGS (.500) and 11-12 FTS (.917)...he also had five straight games with 10+ points from 11/10 to 11/23, as he averaged 15.4 ppg in that run...he was hampered by injuries in the season's last three months, missing five games in February with a sore back and then 13 games with tendinitis of the left knee...he sat out two games due to coaching decisions.

Pro:

The leading scorer for Olympiakos of Greece in 1994-95, he connected on 59-155 three-pointers (.381), nearly tripling the player with the second most 3-pt FGM on the team (Milan Tomic with 22-67)...in 25 games with Olympiakos, he averaged 21.1 points, 2.0 assists and 5.7 rebounds a game...he logged a team-high 829 minutes and shot a team-best 84.4 percent from the foul line...his teammates included former Atlanta Hawks' forward Alexander Volkov and Bulls' 1995 second round draft pick, Dragan Tarlac...while leading the Suns to a 55-27 record and a second place finish in the Pacific Division, he won the 1989 NBA Sixth Man of the Year Award...during that season, he averaged an NBA reserves-high 21.5 ppg, while shooting 49.7 percent from the floor and 41.3 percent from 3-pt range...that season featured a career-high 45 points vs. the L.A. Clippers, 11/12/88...while with Seattle, he scored his 15,000th career point at the Charlotte Coliseum, 1/31/92...a second round draft pick of the Kings in 1981 (29th overall), he still holds the Kings franchise record for points in a playoff game with 33 vs. Houston, 4/22/86...after playing his first six seasons with the Kings in both Kansas City and Sacramento, he was dealt to Phoenix, 6/21/87, for Ed Pinckney and a 1988 second round draft pick...midway through the 1990-91 season, he was traded to Seattle, along with two first round draft picks, for Xavier McDaniel...he started his career averaging 9.3 ppg on 45.9 percent FGS, 9.1 percent 3-pt FGS and 66.4 percent FTS in 74 games...in his second season, he more than doubled his average with a mark of 19.8 ppg on 49.4 percent FGS, 28.2 percent 3-pt FGS and 77.9 percent FTS...he also increased his rebounding average from 4.4 rpg to 6.1 rebounds a game in his second season...the team's last season in Kansas City (1984-85) was his best as a pro as he averaged 22.9 ppg, to go with a career-high 83 steals, a career-best 22 blocked shots, 3.3 assists and 5.0 rebounds a game...he was traded by the Sonics, along with Dana Barros and an option to switch 1994 draft picks, in exchange for Kendall Gill, 9/1/93...during the 1993-94 season in Charlotte, he averaged 11.5 ppg, while hitting a career-best 39.3 percent from 3-pt range, 45.9 percent FGS overall and 78.0 percent FTS...in 1990, he finished second in the league to Larry Bird in free throw accuracy, hitting a career-best 91.7 percent FTS...he was third in free throw shooting in 1993 with a mark of 91.1 percent FTS.

College:

He finished his career at Illinois as the Illini's all-time leader in scoring (1,692), rebounding (831), field goals made (753) and field goals attempted (1,658)...the Illini's MVP in both his junior and senior seasons, in 1981 he led Illinois to its first NCAA berth in 18 years, as he averaged 17.2 points and 9.2 rebounds a game...selected to the All-Big 10 first team as a senior by both AP and UPI, he was named an honorable mention All-American in 1981...he was a second team All-Big 10 choice as a junior.

Personal:

He and his wife, Joy, have two children, Jade Alexis and Justin Edward...he was a high school teammate of former NBA All-Star, Mark Aguirre, and those two led Westinghouse to a 29-1 record his senior year...he is very active in community service, staging various public clinics and frequently performing charity work...while in Phoenix, he was involved with the "Accept the Challenge" program benefiting area students...he enjoys golf and reading in his spare time...he is interested in a career in broadcasting after he finishes playing.

High School: Riverside Poly, Riverside, California
College: UCLA '87
Drafted: By Indiana in first round, 1987 (11th pick)
Acquired: Drafted

1995-96:

For the second straight season he was named third team All-NBA...he is the only Pacer to be named to an All-NBA squad...he became just the second player in NBA history with 1,200 three-pointers made in his career with his six 3-pt FGS at Orlando, 4/12...he has hit 100+ three-pointers, an NBA record seven straight seasons...when he scored a season-high tying 40 points vs. Miami, 4/6, he became the 90th player in the history of the league to score 14,000 points in his career...he now has 14,073 points in his career...he scored 40 points twice last season, including against Phoenix, 1/23...he topped 30+ points eight times and in those games the Pacers were 7-1...he finished the season with 77 steals, which gave him 884 in his career, one short of all-time Pacers career leader Vern Fleming's record of 885...his 21.1 ppg average last year was his best in three years and the fourth highest average of his nine-year career...he was third on the team in assists with 253, and is second on the team's all-time list in assists with 2,320...he has logged more minutes than anyone else in Pacers' history with 24,538 regular season minutes...including the first 12 games he played in last season, he led the Pacers in scoring 38 times...he scored in double-figures in 72 of his 76 appearances...in the first 12 games, he scored 20+ points 11 times and in that stretch averaged 26.1 ppg...he was named to his third All-Star appearance last season as a reserve...he is the only Pacer to ever be named to more than one All-Star game...he contributed eight points on 4-4 from two-point range and 4-8 FGS overall in the East's 129-118 win...he missed the last four games of the regular season and the first four games of the playoff series with Atlanta due to surgery to repair a fractured right eye socket...he suffered the injury in a collision with Detroit's Otis Thorpe, 4/13, and the surgery was performed 4/14...he came back to lead the Pacers in Game Five of the First Round in the 1996 Playoffs against the Hawks, 5/5, with 29 points, including 16 in the fourth quarter...he was 13-15 from the foul line in that game, including 11-13 in the final period...his FTM in the fourth quarter were two off the NBA playoff record for a quarter and he missed the FTA record for a quarter by just one.

Pro:

Named to the 1996 U.S. Olympic gold medal-winning basketball team, he is the 10th current or former Pacer to have been named to the team...at the Olympics in Atlanta, he was fourth on the U.S. team in scoring with an average of 11.4 ppg...he topped "Dream Team III" in three-pointers made (17) and attempted (41) during the eight-game tournament...he also saw more action than any other U.S. player, averaging 21.5 mpg in the Olympics...he was one of five players on the U.S. team with more steals (8) than turnovers (5)...the first Pacer to ever start an NBA All-Star Game, he was elected by the fans for the 1995 All-Star Game in Phoenix, 2/12/95...he set a club record with 195 three-pointers in 1994-95...the second leading scorer and one of three tri-captains on "Dream Team II," he averaged 17.1 points a game in the eight-game 1994 World Championships of Basketball tournament...he tied for the tournament lead in three-pointers made with 30 in the eight games...he topped the squad hitting 19-20 FTS...he scored a team tournament-high 31 points vs. Australia, 8/9/94...he finished the 1993-94 season as one of two players in the league to shoot 90+ percent from the free throw line, hitting 90.8 percent FTS...he registered his 10,000th career point vs. the Bulls, 1/22/94...his streak of 345 consecutive starts (at the time the longest active streak in the NBA) ended when he sat out vs. Houston, 11/18/93, due to a sprained left ankle...he had 100+ steals in five straight seasons from 1989-90 to 1993-94...he set a Pacers' NBA record with 57 points at Charlotte, 11/28/93...his team-high 167 three-pointers in 1992-93 led the NBA that season and were five short of the NBA record for 3-pt FGM in a single season...he was named to the 1990 Eastern Conference All-Star team, the first Pacer All-Star since 1977...he established a rookie record (since broken) held by Larry Bird, with 61 three-pointers made in 1987-88...he is the Pacers' all-time playoff career leader in minutes (1,871), field goals made (385), field goals attempted (800), 3-pt FGM (119), 3-pt FGA (273), FTM (322), FTA (374), points (1,209) and steals (55)...he had one of the best performances in NBA playoff history, scoring 25 of his playoff career-high 39 points in the fourth quarter of Game Five of the 1994 Eastern Conference Finals against the Knicks in Madison Square Garden, 6/1/94...on his way to that mark, he tossed in an NBA record five three-pointers in the fourth period...he had six three-pointers in the second half of that game, tying the NBA record...he has accomplished that feat twice and is one of two players to hit six three-pointers in a half twice (along with Kenny Smith)...in Game One of the 1995 Eastern Conference Semifinals vs. New York, 5/7/95, he provided one of the most exciting comebacks in NBA playoff history, scoring eight straight points in just 8.9 seconds, to give the Pacers the two-point win...in that time, he scored a three-pointer, stole the inbounds pass and drilled a second three-pointer and then converted on two free throws for the game winning points...his 24.7 ppg average in the post-season is the 10th highest in NBA history and fourth best among active players...his 43.6 percentage from 3-pt range in the playoffs is fourth highest all-time...his 273 3-pt FGA are ninth most all-time in the playoffs...he shares the NBA playoff record (along with Gail Goodrich and Bob Love) for most free throws without a miss in a game, as he hit 17-17 against the Knicks in the First Round of the 1993 playoffs at New York, 4/30/93...in that game he shot 12-12 FTS in one quarter, second most in playoff history (behind Michael Jordan's 13-13 FTS)...in the First Round of the 1995 playoffs, he hit a club record seven three-pointers against the Hawks, 4/29/95, one short of the NBA playoff record...his 31 3-pt FGA in the 1995 first round series with the Hawks is an NBA record for a three-game series...his 13 three-pointers made in that Atlanta series are one short of the NBA record for a three-game series set by John Starks against Cleveland in 1996...he had 55 three-pointers in the seven-game 1995 Eastern Conference Finals against the Magic, second all-time in a seven-game series to Dennis Scott's 65 3-pt FGM in the same series.

College:

He is third on UCLA's all-time career scoring list with 2,095 points...as a junior, he was the nation's fourth-leading scorer with 25.9 points per game, as he shot a career-best 55.6 percent from the floor that year...in 1987 he led UCLA to its first PAC-10 title in four years and was named first team all-conference...he was named third team All-American as a junior and received special mention on most teams as a senior...in concluding his final season at UCLA, he hit 59 percent of his last 200 shots from the field, including 57.6 percent from three-point range (34-59) over the last 14 games of the season.

Personal:

He comes from an athletic family: his sister, Cheryl, was a member of the U.S. gold medal-winning 1984 Olympic basketball team and is an analyst for TNT's NBA coverage, his brother, Darrell, is a former major league catcher and another sister, Tammy, was a volleyball player at Cal State-Fullerton...he majored in history at UCLA...he runs a successful basketball camp for kids during the off-season...he is married to actress/model Marita Stavrou...an aspiring actor and sportscaster, he has appeared on numerous TV talk shows and had a cameo role in the Billy Crystal movie "Forget Paris."

Born: August 23, 1966 in Eindhoven, Holland
High School: Eindhoven, Holland
College: Marist, '88
Drafted: By Indiana in first round, 1988 (2nd pick)
Acquired: Drafted

1995-96:

He is coming off his second straight "career" year, as he averaged a career-best 18.5 ppg, in which he led the Pacers in scoring 29 times and in rebounding 16 times...he averaged 6.9 rebounds a game, his second best average ever...his 18 points at Detroit, 4/17, put him over the 9,000-point mark in his career--making him the fourth Pacer to reach that level with Indiana...he also topped the 3,500-rebound mark for his career this season...he is the second Pacer to reach that plateau in the NBA...he ranks third in Pacers' NBA history with 1,132 offensive rebounds...he became the second Pacer in NBA history to block 800 shots with two against the Grizzlies, 3/22...he had the most points in a game by a Pacer this season, scoring a career-high 44 points against the L.A. Clippers, 12/10...in that game, he tied the Pacers' record for FGM with 20--matching Billy Knight's 15-year-old record...that was his fifth appearance of the season, as he missed the first 12 games due to surgery on his left ankle...he scored over 30 points three times (Pacers were 2-1)...he scored in double-figures in 59 of his 63 games and tossed in 20 or more points 27 times...he had 13 games with 10+ rebounds and had double-doubles in all 13 outings...after missing the game vs. Orlando, 2/21, with the flu, he failed to score 10 or more points just one time in his last 29 appearances...he missed a total of 19 games last season due to illness or injury and his 63 games played were a career low.

Pro:

In 1994-95, he was named the NBA's "Player of the Week" for the week ending 3/12/95, averaging 25.3 points, 8.7 rebounds and 2.7 assists per game, while shooting 67.4 percent from the floor as he led the Pacers to a 3-0 record...all three of those wins came on the road...during that week, he posted his season-high 35 points on 15-21 FGS and 5-6 FTS at San Antonio, 3/7/95...his 35 points were the third most scored by a Pacer during the season and the second highest by a Pacer on the road...he was the team's leading scorer over the season's last 30 games, averaging 20.4 ppg, while shooting 56.2 percent from the floor in 29 appearances...he was one of two Pacers to average 20+ points in the 1995 playoffs, tallying 20.1 ppg...he shot a team-high 54.7 percent from the floor...overshadowed by Reggie Miller's last second heroics in Game One of the 1995 Eastern Conference Semifinals, he had a playoff career-high 34 points in the Pacers' win at New York, 5/7/95...he led the Pacers in scoring four times in the post-season, all in the Eastern Conference Semifinals against the Knicks...during that series, he tied Reggie Miller for the scoring lead with an average of 22.6 ppg and shot 60 percent from the floor...his bucket at the final buzzer of Game Four of the 1995 Eastern Conference Finals vs. Orlando, 5/29/95, capped one of the wildest finishes in NBA history as the lead changed hands four times in the last 13.3 seconds of the game...in his last 40 games of the 1993-94 season, he averaged 17.7 points and 6.9 rebounds, while shooting 56.9 percent FGS...for the season, he shot a team-high and career-best 53.4 percent FGS...he registered a career-high (at the time) 40 points against the Sixers, 4/22/94, on 17-24 FGS and 6-7 FTS...his 40 points, 17 FGM and 24 FGA were the most by a Pacer in 1994-95 and his 17 FGM were three short of the club record...he scored 30+ points three times in the last eight games of the season...during the 1993-94 season, against the Mavericks, 2/22/94, he nearly posted his first career triple-double as he handed out a career-best eight assists, to go with 11 rebounds and 27 points...during the 1991-92 season, he grabbed a career-high 16 rebounds at Washington, 1/14/92, then duplicated that mark the next season vs. the Heat, 11/24/92...he led the team in field goal percentage (.533) in 1989-90...he was ninth in the NBA in blocked shots in 1989-90 and 10th in 1988-89...he was named to the NBA All-Rookie team in 1988-89...he blocked a career-high eight shots at Chicago, 11/30/90, just one short of the club NBA record.

College:

He was named the East Coast Athletic Conference Metro Player of the Year his last two seasons at Marist and was named the conference Player of the Decade for the 80's...he was the ECAC-Metro Rookie of the year as a freshman...he scored a school record 45 points in his career finale vs. St. Francis (Pa.).

Personal:

He is nicknamed the "Dunking Dutchman"...he played on the Dutch National Basketball Team after his sophomore and junior seasons at Marist...he has a sister living in the U.S., but the rest of his family still lives in Holland...a certified auto mechanic, he collects and rebuilds classic "muscle" cars...he is the tallest player in Pacers' history at 7'4"...he is an avid collector of Roadrunner cartoon memorabilia...he has a daughter, Jasmine, and a son, Derrik, with his fiancé, Candice.

NBA Terminology

Active List

The maximum number of active players is 12; the minimum is 11. At no time shall a team be permitted to dress fewer than eight players for a regular season game or nine for a playoff game. During the off-season and training camp, teams may carry no more than 20 active players.

Injured List

When a player on the Playing Roster is unable, due to injury or illness, to perform his duties, his name may be transferred from the Active List to the Injured List. Any player placed on the Injured List, who is replaced on his team's Active List, must sit out at least five of his team's regular season games before he may be restored to the Active List. No more than three players may be on a team's Injured List at any one time.

Ten-Day Contract

On or after the 55th day following the first game, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract. This procedure may be used only to replace a player assigned to the Injured List. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day contracts with the same team.

Trading Deadline

No trades are permitted after 9 p.m. (EST) on the 16th Thursday of the regular season (that's Feb. 20 this season). From that point until the end of the regular season, player additions must be made through the waiver procedure or by signing free agents.

Waivers

From August 15 to the end of the regular season, clubs may claim waived players within 48 hours after notice. Players waived at any other time, may be claimed within 10 days. If no team claims the waived player, he becomes a free agent. If more than one team claims a waived player, the one with the lesser record at that time claims the player. The cost for a waived player is $1,000, payable to the league.

Guaranteed Contracts

On the 56th day of the regular season, all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

Renunciation of Amateur Eligibility

A person whose high school class has graduated and is at least 17 years old shall become eligible for the College Draft if he renounces his intercollegiate basketball eligibility by written notice to the NBA at least 45 days prior to the draft. Prior to 45 days before the draft, teams may not make direct or indirect contact with players who have eligibility remaining. Teams may contact players without remaining eligibility, but may not discuss compensation.

Salary Cap

The salary cap for the 1996-97 season is $24.3 million per team.

Minimum Salary

The minimum salary for the 1996-97 season is $247,500.

NBA Community Programs

The NBA, its teams, players and coaches support programs dedicated to helping build a better future for all people, with a special emphasis on youth.

The 1996-97 season marks the debut of the NBA's league-wide community outreach initiative entitled the NBA TeamUp program. Its primary goal is to encourage youth to become actively involved in their communities. TeamUp helps young people develop an understanding of critical issues facing society and focuses on their ability to make a difference in the lives of others through community service projects. Program components include public service announcements, motivational visits by NBA spokesmen and players and a national youth service award.

This season the league also introduces the NBA Sportsmanship Initiative, a program designed to recognize and promote the importance of sportsmanship on the court. The nationwide program, implemented by the NBA in conjunction with the National Federation of State High School Associations, targets high school student-athletes participating in basketball. Each year, an NBA player will be selected to receive the NBA Sportsmanship Award for demonstrating sportsmanship throughout the season.

The NBA also continues its support of Black History Month, CARE, the Martin Luther King Jr. holiday, the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse and Reading is Fundamental through a number of community outreach efforts.

In addition, the NBA's 29 teams remain actively involved in supporting and implementing various programs that positively impact their local communities in the United States and Canada.

For example, the Pacers organization continues its sponsorship of two successful programs: Stay in School, which encourages Indianapolis Public School students in grades K-6 to improve their performance in language arts, math and science, and Don't Foul Out, which has delivered the "say no to drugs" message to students statewide for the past 11 years.

The Pacers Basketball Corp. Foundation, Inc.

The Pacers Foundation reflects the team's long-standing commitment to its community. A not-for-profit, public organization, the Foundation works to improve the lives of Indiana's young people by supporting youth charities and programs across the state.

This year, the Foundation awarded $80,000 in grants to the following organizations: Agape Therapeutic Riding Center; Albion Fellows Bacon Center, At-Your-School Child Services; Big Brothers Big Sisters of Delaware County; Classroom Coaches; Day Nursery Association; Family Service Society; Jameson Camp; Marion County Commission on Youth; Noble Centers; Overcoming Obstacles; the Police Athletic League of Indianapolis; Teen Track; Young Audiences of Indiana; and Youth as Resources.

In addition to awarding annual grants, the Foundation runs a number of programs of its own that benefit Indiana youth. For example, as part of the NBA TeamUp program, the Foundation will award five $2,000 scholarships to high school seniors based on their outstanding service to the community.

The How and Why of the "Pacers"

When professional basketball came to Indianapolis in 1967, one of the key decisions would be what to call the new American Basketball Association franchise.

According to Indianapolis attorney, Richard D. Tinkham, the nickname "Pacers" was decided on through a collective decision of the original investors. Tinkham, one of those investors, recalled that the nickname was a combination of the state's rich history with the harness racing pacers (investor Chuck Barnes was a horse racing enthusiast) and the pace car used for the running of the Indianapolis 500.

Tinkham said the "Pacers" decision was an easy one, but the real debate was whether the team should be called the Indiana Pacers or the Indianapolis Pacers. Since one of the original ideas for the team was to have it playing throughout the state with its base in Indianapolis, the official team name became the Indiana Pacers.
